Middle School renovation to be investigated

Accelerated math program OKd by city board

BY GEORGE MALEK

A proposed accelerated math program which has received strong support from the community will be initiated next fall in the Washington C. H. Middle School, and renovation of the Middle School's home economics department will be investigated. Both were major items discussed Monday night by members of the Washington C. H. Board of Education.

Parents of students who had been suggested for inclusion in the specialized math program had been invited to attend a meeting at the Middle School during which Maurice Pfeifer, school counselor, had explained the proposed program. He noted that Washington C. H. graduates were having some difficulty in highly technical courses in college because of deficiencies in the regular math of fers. A preliminary report indicated that a move to the first floor would be extremely expensive because of the need to revamp the plumbing for supplying

THOSE PLANNING to attend the "Say It With Music" band concert the 200 students from the Fayette County elementary and junior high schools are staging at Miami Trace High School, April 24 at 8 p.m., are in store for a special surprise.

Aaron Spaulding, band director at Miami Trace, is going to do two drum solos during the program, consisting of selected music, marches, patriotic music and pop tunes.

The concert is free, but donations will be appreciated at the door.

THE WASHINGTON Senior High School band boosters club meeting, originally scheduled for tonight, has been changed to next Tuesday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the WSHS band room, according to Mrs. Gene Sagar.

to as high as $25,000, but board members agreed that the improvement is necessary. They have discussed completely redoing the present area which is located in the basement of the building as well as proposing that the facilities be relocated on the first floor in the classrooms formerly used as science laboratories by freshmen.

The congressional failure to approve additional aid funds was again criticized by Ford, who said it provided "the initial kick-off" for President Nguyen Van Thieu's decision to abandon large portions of South Vietnam to the Communists.

However, Ford said he won't make Vietnam an issue in the 1976 presidential campaign, adding: "I do not intend to go out and point the finger or make a speech concerning those who have differed with me who I might water and adequate drainage. However, the board authorized Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor to employ an architect to draw specifications for each of the possible renovation projects as well as a cost estimate for each. These will be studied by the board before bids are let.

Increases in the increment level for coaches, dramatics supervisors and music directors were approved by board members. The largest monetary increases were awarded to top athletic personnel while non-athletic increments received the largest percentage increases. Each special activities post carries a five per cent raise guarantee each year the same person holds the position up to a limit of three years.

The athletic director's salary was raised from $700 to $1,200 per year, and the head football and basketball coach's salaries were raised from $1,000 to $1,200. Assistant varsity coaches received a $200 increase from $400 to $600, and most other coaches increases of $50 or $100.

The senior choir director's salary was upped from $100 to $200 while the high school band director's was raised from $800 to $925. The Sunburst advisor's salary from $150 to $250.

MUSIC PROGRAMS in the elementary grades and Middle School were discussed by Mrs. Emily King and Mrs. Juanita Hughes, music instructors. Mrs. King, who works at several elementary schools as well as the high school, noted that she has supplemented the regular curriculum with several musical arrangements which focus on guitar. The children seem to identify with the guitar music and are more attentive during the supplemental offerings, she said.

She explained that a special vocal group called the "Harmony Seekers" has been formed for performances at special functions and club meetings. The group consists of four boys and four girls who have been very well received at their past outings. The Harmony Seekers were patterned after the Miami Trace Folksingers who have enjoyed considerable success in the county schools.

Concerts remaining this school year which Mrs. King will direct include a performance at Eastside Elementary School Thursday night which is entitled "It's Opening Night." The show will feature several show tunes from Broadway musicals and will be presented by fourth and fifth graders as well as a slow-learners class.

The spring concert performed by the Washington Senior High School choir will be held May 9 in the Middle School.

Homestead tax exemptions set for disabled persons

Any Fayette County resident who has been permanently or totally disabled for at least 12 months is now eligible for homestead tax exemptions.

According to Fayette County auditor Mary Morris, the Disability Homestead Act of the amended Ohio House Bill No. 23 was signed by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes on April 3 and allows for tax reductions of the permanently disabled under the same classifications as those eligible for homestead exemptions after reaching 65 years of age.

Application for reductions for the tax year 1975 must be filed in the county auditor's office on or after May 1 and prior to August 1, Mrs. Morris said.

Under the act, a person who is permanently or totally disabled is one who

U.S. seeks Viet cease-fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says the United States is seeking a Vietnam cease-fire that would permit evacuation of Americans and large numbers of friendly South Vietnamese.

Without a cease-fire or the approval for the evacuation by both North and South Vietnamese, it could take "a sizable U.S. military commitment" to evacuate "those South Vietnamese that we feel a special obligation to," Ford said in an interview Monday night on the CBS radio and television networks.

Many congressmen have said they fear such a step could lead to U.S. re-involvement in the Vietnam war. A $200-million package of evacuation and humanitarian aid funds, which the Senate is considering today, would restrict U.S. authority to withdraw Vietnamese.

A parallel measure approved by the House International Relations Committee, however, would give Ford the broader authority he seeks.

In addition, the House Appropriations Committee became the first congressional panel to heed Ford's pleas for more arms aid when it voted Monday for $165 million in arms and a like amount for humanitarian aid.

The vote came after Army Chief of Staff Frederick C. Weyand told the panel that South Vietnam is no longer militarily defensible but that the aid could prevent an abrupt Communist takeover.

The House Armed Services Committee meets today to consider authorizing an extra $422 million in arms aid.

The congressional failure to approve additional aid funds was again criticized by Ford, who said it provided "the initial kick-off" for President Nguyen Van Thieu's decision to abandon large portions of South Vietnam to the Communists.

However, Ford said he won't make Vietnam an issue in the 1976 presidential campaign, adding: "I do not intend to go out and point the finger or make a speech concerning those who have differed with me who I might privately think contributed to the problem."

The Vietnamese situation, and Thieu's resignation earlier in the day, dominated the hourlong program, in which Ford was questioned in the White House Blue Room by CBS Correspondents Walter Cronkite, Eric Sevareid and Bob Schieffer.

On other subjects, the President said:

—The United States has not yet decided whether to take the Middle East situation to a reconvened Geneva peace conference, resume Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to reach Arab-Israeli agreements or attempt a combination of the two. He warned that a new Mideast war would "inevitably" mean a renewed Arab oil embargo.

—He opposes any effort to forbid covert operations overseas by the Central Intelligence Agency, saying "that would be like tying a president's hand behind his back in foreign policy."

—He is refusing to make a "categorical statement" that he will run in 1976, but still intends to and sees no reason at this point why Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller shouldn't be his running mate.

—He doesn't think the economic situation "will be nearly so bad in the months ahead."

Council to set date for government vote

Washington C. H. City Council is scheduled to establish a date for a special election on a proposal to abandon the city manager-council plan and adopt a federal plan at its regular semi-monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the City Office Building. City Council, by law, has 30 days

Are you delinquent?

Fayette County auditor Mary Morris said Tuesday approximately 700 personal property tax filings remain to be made in the county auditor's office before the April 30 deadline.

All businesses and persons holding investments including land contracts and mortgage notes issued during 1974 must file a personal property tax form in the auditor's office, Mrs. Morris reminded.

She said filings must be made regardless of whether income from the mortgage or land contract has been received anytime during the year of 1974.

No extensions of time for the listing will be granted unless upon written request, she added, and the maximum extension for any filing is 60 days.

Penalties for delinquent tax filings will be assessed effective May 1, ranging from five per cent to 50 per cent, plus a charge of one-half of one per cent per month interest, depending upon the length of delinquency.

Mrs. Morris urged that residents file their personal property taxes before the April 30 deadline and penalty assessment date.

after the filing of the petitions to establish a date for the special election. Petitions proposing the change were filed April 1 with the Fayette County Board of Elections by a three-member committee consisting of William Stolzenburg, 804 Maple St., Phil Tatman, 437 Warren Ave., and Washington C. H. attorney John C. Bryan, 22 Colonial Court.

City Manager Dan Wolford said June 3, the date for primary elections in Ohio, will be recommended to City Council as the date for the election. There is no primary election in Fayette County this spring. City officials believe a vote on the issue the same day as the Ohio primary would cause less confusion and could create a large voter turnout.

The submission of the issue to the voters and the establishment of the date for the special election will be considered under an emergency ordinance. Two supplemental questions will also be included in the piece of legislation.

The supplemental questions will be election of city council members at-large or by wards, and whether or not to adopt a recall section.

Seven council members would be elected by wards, or five at-large under the federal plan, which provides a stronger mayor form of government than a general plan provided under the Ohio Revised Code. The federal plan has never been used by an Ohio municipality.

An emergency resolution declaring support for the city manager plan of government is also expected to be approved by City Council members during the meeting.

Three other pieces of legislation, all carrying emergency tags, will be considered by City Council members.

An emergency ordinance authorizing the city manager to enter into an agreement with Steele Date Processing, Inc., Washington C. H., for an automated city income tax system will be considered along with ordinances authorizing Wolford to enter into contracts with Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Central Ohio for insurance coverage for city employees and with the Xerox Corp. for the lease of a new copying machine.

Hospital sets anniversary rites

The Fayette Memorial Hospital board of trustees Monday night approved the schedule of activities for National Hospital Week and the local hospital's 25th anniversary.

Fayette Memorial Hospital was dedicated May 7, 1950 and became operational May 8 of that year, but the anniversary celebration will be held in conjunction with National Hospital Week May 11-17. On May 12, the hospital and all three Washington C. H. banks will have nurses available to administer free blood pressure examinations to area residents. The nurses will be stationed at First National Bank, Fayette County Bank and Huntington Bank as well as at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Tuesday of that week, the hospital will hold its birthday party. Free cake and refreshments will be served in the front lobby of the hospital from 2:30 to 7:30 p.m. The public is welcome.

May 14 will be employee recognition day at the facility. Administrators and officials of the hospital will prepare the afternoon meal for all employees.

No specific activities are slated for Thursday, but on Friday an awards luncheon will be conducted for the employees who have served at the hospital since it opened in 1950. There are six 25-year employees who work at the facility, and they will be guests of the board of trustees.

CONTINUING EDUCATION was discussed at the meeting, and four of the hospital's registered nurses were approved for enrollment in course which will lead to a bachelor of arts degree. The hospital will reimburse half of the nurses' tuition and book costs upon successful completion of each class. A limit of 10 quarter-hours per year is placed on the reimbursement.

Hospital administrator Robert L. Kunz announced the statistical report for March. He said there has been 326 admissions, accounting for 2,208 in-patient days. There were 59 births resulting in 190 newborn patient days.

The hospital had an average occupancy of 81.68 per cent, and the per cent of occupancy in the medical and surgical division was 92.55. The patients' average stay in the hospital was 6.57 days, and was 7.75 days in the medical and surgical division.

Deaths, Funerals

Arthur H. Beatty

Arthur H. Beatty, 58, of 1020 E. Temple St., died at 8:10 a.m. Tuesday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient since Friday.

Born in Fayette County, Mr. Beatty had resided in Washington C. H. his entire life. A retired employee of Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, he was a World War II veteran, having served in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and attended the Second Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Kathleen Woodson Beatty; one daughter, Mrs. Linda Stewart of Columbus; and a granddaughter, Tonya Stewart. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Martha Potter of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Mrs. Mildred Smith of Washington C. H.; and four brothers, James of Columbus, Morris of Sandusky, Stanley of Washington C. H. and Charles of Chillicothe.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Howard Gray officiating. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Friends may call from 3 until 9 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

JOSHUA MARTIN — Graveside services for Joshua Martin, infant son of Shelby R. and Judith Hurless Martin, 2414 Bogus Rd., were conducted at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Washington Cemetery by Rev. Robert Kline, pastor of the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union. The infant died Friday.

Services were conducted under the direction of the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home.

PUCO ineffective, solons told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special legislative committee studying the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio was told Monday that the utility regulating body is ineffective and uses an unjust formula which leads to excessive consumer rates.

Former Sen. Howard Metzenbaum and former PUCO chairman Henry W. Eckhart both told the committee that the General Assembly should junk the present rate making formula.

Small cars loaded with costly options

DETROIT (AP) — Consumers are buying fewer and smaller cars, but they're ordering more optional equipment than ever before.

Installation of extra-cost items such as air conditioning, power brakes, vinyl tops, bigger engines and power windows is setting records despite the over-all sales slump, the auto companies report.

"People are buying smaller cars but they're putting more stuff on them," says an analyst at Ford Motor Co. "The upward trend in options has been going on for 20 years, and 1975 is no exception."

Adding more options may partially defeat the fuel-saving objectives of some small car buyers. Air conditioning, for example, uses up about one-half mile per gallon. And any option adds weight to the car, with a corresponding increase in fuel consumption.

The companies say they are selling more options partly because more are being offered on small cars as well as larger models.

Both also said the regulatory body should take a stricter line with utilities.

Metzenbaum said the PUCO should recognize artificial natural gas shortages and excessive profit margins. Eckhart said the PUCO erroneously sees its role as a middleman between the utilities and consumers rather than as a consumer advocate.

Metzenbaum, who was defeated by Sen. John Glenn last year, told the committee that proposed rate hikes could jump some profit margins to 58 per cent under the present formula.

Metzenbaum urged the committee to act immediately in repealing the so-called RCN rate formula, which allows utilities to figure the cost of facilities in their rate base at replacement cost at today's prices rather than at their original construction cost.

He told the committee it should not wait for its final report this fall to make the recommendation, but should do so in an interim report immediately.

"You have a golden opportunity to save the people of Ohio tremendous amounts of money that they are presently paying public utilities," Metzenbaum said, "if only you will act as quickly as possible."

Metzenbaum said if present rate hike proposals are approved by the PUCO under the RCN formula, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. would have 32.5 per cent return on its equity — "Certainly an outlandish figure no matter how you figure it," he said.

The former senator said East Ohio Gas Co. would have a 58 per cent return on its equity under proposed rate increases.

"They will earn $58 for every $100 invested," he said. "You can't justify that except under RCN."

Metzenbaum said the present natural gas shortage is largely contrived, with gas companies refusing to produce known gas reserves. He said their refusal is documented by the Federal Power Commission.

He told the committee it should oppose deregulation of natural gas prices, citing Library of Congress figures indicating that deregulation would quadruple prices in the next 10 years while providing only 10 per cent more gas.

Eckhart told the committee that the PUCO, which was virtually an invisible agency until a few years ago, still operates under severe constraints on its budget, staff and procedures.

"There is no effective utility regulation in Ohio today," Eckhart told the committee.

"The people of Ohio have been misled in the past 12 years into thinking that the PUCO was regulating the investor owned electric, gas, telephone and electric utilities," Eckhart said, "and now the chickens are coming home to roost."

Eckhart said the major blame for the ineffectiveness of the PUCO must rest with the utilities, which failed to lobby for the PUCO budget and for a fair rate-making formula.

"The utilities have played a dangerous game," he said. "They didn't want effective utility regulation, and Ohio has not had it."

"Now the people of Ohio are finally becoming aware of this unfortunate condition and they are calling out for action," he said.

The former chairman said the PUCO apparently doesn't understand its function. He said the commission, in an information booklet to the legislature, described its purpose as to "strike an equitable balance" between consumer and utility interests.

"The PUCO must be made to realize that its primary obligation is to protect the consumer," he said. "Only when this is accomplished will there be effective utility regulation in Ohio."

Eckhart also called for repeal of the RCN formula, replacing it by actual cost.

He also asked the General Assembly to adopt a law similar to one passed by the West Virginia legislature which requires detailed disclosure statements before allowing fuel adjustment prices to be passed through to the consumer.

Brown testifies on Demo measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Lt. Gov. John W. Brown has testified that he tried to reach a "meeting point" last January with majority Democrats who wanted him to sign six partisan bills they rushed through the opening week of the legislature.

"I tried to assure them that I had no intention of not fulfilling my obligation," Brown, a Republican, said Monday at the beginning of a non-jury trial in Franklin County Common Pleas Court in which the GOP is seeking to overturn the controversial legislation.

Brown was scheduled to continue his testimony today.

Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati filed the suit to void the congressional redistricting plan and five other bills on constitutional grounds—primarily because they were not signed by Brown.

Kennedy leads poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts is the only potential Democratic presidential candidate running ahead of President Ford in popularity, according to the Harris poll.

Although Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976, he led Ford by 50-43 per cent in the survey with most of his support coming from black voters and persons under 30.

"This strong support for Kennedy is bound to set off speculation that he will finally agree to accept the Democratic nomination next year," the Harris organization said.

Two other Democrats were running neck-and-neck with the President in popularity, the survey showed. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine led 45-45 with Ford with the rest undecided, while Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Ford matched at 44-44.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota trailed Ford by two per cent at 47-45; Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas lagged 47-38; and Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona trailed, 50-33.

The secret deal question

The clouded question whether there were indeed secret agreements between Washington and Saigon remains unresolved. There are persistent reports that some sort of deal was made to gain South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's acquiescence in the 1973 peace treaty. Administration denials of this have not settled the matter.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has repeatedly said that there were no secret commitments, insisting concurrently that the United States does have a moral obligation to continue aid to South Vietnam. But Kissinger's remarks, and those of White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen, have not been wholly satisfying on this score.

A short time ago Sen. Henry M. Jackson created something of an uproar in Congress by claiming that there existed documentary proof of secret agreements, though he was unable to produce the documents. His charge is given substance by Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger's disclosure that only a couple of weeks ago he learned of former President Richard M. Nixon's correspondence with South Vietnamese leaders in 1973.

This establishes that documents of such correspondence — whether or not it does in fact involve secret agreements of the kind charged — are in existence. However, the disclosure raises further questions.

One is constrained to ask why Schlesinger did not learn of these documents until very recent times when the administration was being hard pressed on the subject. It is understandable that he should not have known of the Nixon correspondence at the time the Paris accords were completed; he was then director of the Atomic Energy Commission. Soon thereafter, however, he became head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and a few months later he was named secretary of defense. The question arises why, in these capacities, he was not informed of correspondence having to do with the U.S. role in South Vietnam.

Senator Jackson has asked Chairman John C. Stennis of the Armed Services Committee to demand from the White House all written records of Nixon's dealings with the Thieu regime.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

Defense budget debate

WASHINGTON — Guns or butter was the choice in the long-gone era with the totalitarians opting for guns while the affluent West boasted that both were within the reach of the free world.

Today the choice is written up by many defending the $104 billion defense budget as: guns or jobs.

Cut the defense budget and jobs are lost at a time when, according to the lastest Administration estimates, unemployment will go above 9 per cent in the months ahead.

This is a potent argument being pushed by lobbyists for new weapons systems. It sounds loud and clear in California where cutbacks in aerospace contribute to a jobless rate of 10 per cent or higher.

The center of the conflict just ahead in Congress is the B-1 manned bomber. Pentagon estimates put the cost for the full program of 244 B-1s at $18 billion plus. Knowledgeable outsiders put it closer to $53 billion when all the weaponry and a new tanker fleet plus operational costs are included.

Lobbyists for the prime contractor, Rockwell International of Palm Dale, Calif., have swarmed over the Capitol with high-pressure salesmanship supplemented by elaborate charts showing how many jobs would be lost in at least five states if the opposition succeeds to a jobless rate of 10 per cent or higher.

The center of the conflict just ahead in Congress is the B-1 manned bomber. Pentagon estimates put the cost for the full program of 244 B-1s at $18 billion plus. Knowledgeable outsiders put it closer to $53 billion when all the weaponry and a new tanker fleet plus operational costs are included.

Present planetary influences suggest that you now take the lead where you can to help in straightening out situations which could worsen through neglect.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Mars in benefic aspect. Rouse yourself to that added effort which brings sweet compensation for extracurricular work. Stay alert, aware.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

People about you may seem less open-minded and enthusiastic about your ideas now, but with a bit of clever strategy, you CAN turn the tide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

New offerings indicated. Not all should be accepted without question. On the other hand, don't pass up any without investigation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Stellar influences indicate changing trends in certain areas. You won't like them all immediately, but many are better than they appear at first glance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)

Curb inclinations to extremism and avoid the bizarre. Strict conformists could misconstrue your actions—to your detriment.

YOU BORN TODAY are gifted with a fine mind, lofty ambitions and unusual versatility in the arts—especially in painting, writing and sculpture. If you do not take up one of these as a career, in fact, you will undoubtedly pursue one or the other as an avocation—which could eventually become a second career. You are highly efficient, a lover of neatness and order, but must take care that you don't go too far along these lines and become a "fussbudget." With a great affinity for the outdoors, you could become a successful agriculturist, botanist or landscape artist. Teaching (especially in the fields of history and archeology) is a "natural" for you, and your love for your fellowmen makes you a truly dedicated physician or nurse. Do try to overcome a tendency toward obstinacy.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT</

Free cancer tests scheduled May 4

Every adult in the Fayette County area has a one-day opportunity to be tested for colon and rectal cancer.

The tests, sponsored by the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society, will be administered by Washington C.H. physicians from 12 noon until 5 p.m. Sunday, May 4 in the Medical Arts Building, 616 Willard St.

There is no charge. There is no pain. And the entire procedure of recording basic medical history data and the actual testing will take about five minutes.

Dr. Byers W. Shaw, project chairman, said participating physicians are expecting approximately 400 persons to attend the test. Twelve rooms will be available for testing and they expect to test 120 patients per hour. The physicians are volunteering their services for the project.

ADULTS, both men and women, over 40 years of age are urgently recommended to take part in these tests and younger adults are also welcome to attend.

Except for skin cancer, malignancy in the colon and rectum is the most common in men and women. It can sometimes develop to advanced stages without producing any pain or readily visible symptoms.

At the screening site on May 4, a simple digital rectal examination will be administered, if the visitor desires. The results of the test will be compared with those from three samples taken by each adult over a three-day period following the clinic test.

Each visitor to the clinic will receive one kit with which to take samples at home. Complete instructions will be provided with the kits, and any questions that may arise can be handled by phoning the local office of the American Cancer Society at 335-3540.

The colon cancer clinic committee consists of Mrs. Charlene Cunningham, Mrs. Charlene Barber, Bart Mahoney, Mrs. Sally Antoine, Dr. Joseph Herbert, Mrs. Joyce Hidy, Mrs. Eleanor Henry, Mrs. Jane Winttingham, Bruce Von Bargen and Marshall Boggs.

OSU given probe grant after tiff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two members of the Public Utilities Commission clashed at a meeting of the Controlling Board Monday over a proposal to have Ohio State University help investigate the state's utility problems.

Majority Democrats on the board prevailed, and by a party line vote of 4-3 authorized the commission to enter into a $60,000 contract with OSU's mechanical engineering department.

Commissioner David C. Sweet, a holdover Democrat on the three member agency, and Lewis Heckman, named chairman late last month by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes, staged a 20-minute debate on the proposal.

Sweet, who asked for the contract along with Commissioner Sally Bloomfield—also a Democrat—said the main effort in the OSU research would be to evaluate a so-called fuel adjustment clause under which the state's utilities are presently permitted to operate.

Commission awards two contracts

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners awarded two contract bids Monday during their afternoon session.

The Dennis Construction Co., of Dayton, was awarded the bid for construction of the Rattlesnake sewer improvement project at a cost of $65,900.

The bid was for enlarging and improving the present facilities at the Rattlesnake interchange, including installation of a new lift station and modifying the sewage treatment plant.

Three persons fined by judge

Three persons were fined Monday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court on disorderly conduct charges by acting Judge Robert L. Simpson.

Harry Benson, 68, of 217 East St., was fined $100 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct by intoxication and was credited with two days served in jail.

John C. Bottomley Sr., Wheeling, W. Va., pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and was fined $50 and sentenced to 10 days in jail. Judge Simpson suspended the fine and six days of the jail term and credited Bottomley with the four days already served in jail.

In one other disorderly conduct by intoxication charge, Frank Merritt, 42, U.S. 35-W., was fined $50.

Education chief resigns position

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Mansfield Education Association, Richard High, resigned his position Monday, declining to give a reason.

The association has disputed recent teacher layoffs by the board.

The board announced last week it was laying off 117 teachers in the face of a projected $200,000 deficit at the end of the school year. The association then placed sanctions on the district, terminating it as an undesirable place to work.

Grannis named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George F. Grannis of Upper Arlington has been appointed to the Department of Health's advisory board for the Ohio Laboratory Improvement Program.

Grannis is an associate professor in the Ohio State University pathology department.

The commissioners granted the Compton Creek improvement project to McBobs Excavation of London for a bid of $21,405.40.

The London firm submitted the lowest of three bids for the project. Other bidders were Bridenstein and Matthews of Greenfield for $23,487 and Robert Huff of Bloomingburg, who bid $22,310. All three bids were lower than the engineer's estimate of $25,227.35.

In other action Monday, the commissioners scheduled to receive bids for a new Fayette County Welfare Department vehicle at 11 a.m., May 12 and new vehicle for the Fayette County Sheriff's Department at 11:15 a.m., May 12.

Pretty party compliments

Miss Melissa Lou Mark, bride-elect of James David Garland, was guest of honor at a pretty bridal shower given by Mrs. Howard G. Stewart and Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger, in the home of Mrs. Weidinger, Saturday afternoon. Miss Mark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sutton Mark, 704 Miami Trace Road, and Mr. Garland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Garland, 362 Bunker Hill-Glendora Road.

Bridal bingo conducted by Mrs. Stewart was enjoyed, the prize winners being Mrs. Robert I. Case, Mrs. David G. Mark, Mrs. Mark E. King, Mrs. Emerson Marting and Mrs. Marion L. Waddle. Miss Stephanie Garland presented the prizes to the winners, and also collected the favorite recipes from those present, which were presented to Miss Mark.

The gift table was centered with a girl with a large yellow umbrella under a canopy of yellow, pink, green and orchid streamers. Many gifts were received for which the bride-elect expressed her thanks. The dessert

'Women of the Bible' studied by Circle 4

Circle 4 of the First Presbyterian Church met in the church parlor, Thursday, led by Mrs. Kaye Bartlett.

The group has chosen as their studies for the year, "Women of the Bible." This month's selection, on the woman "Tamar," was presented by Mrs. Gerald Wheat. Mrs. Don Wood gave the treasurers report; Mrs. Herb Stolzenberg gave a report on last week's Geneva Hills Retreat, in which several of those attending "retreated" a little further into the woods than planned. Mrs. Robert Yates made the secretary's report, and Mrs. Kenneth Arnold read a Mission report on Korea. Mrs. Walter Coil read the missionary's report on Guatemala and Mrs. Edwin Thompson gave the Circle prayer.

The circle made plans to meet Thursday to do their share of spring cleaning in the church.

Also attending were Miss Marie Merchant, Mrs. Fulton Alkire, Mrs. David Gerber, Mrs. Irelle Knebler, Mrs. Richard Maddux and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Don Wood and Mrs. David Gerber.

M-D banquet plans complete

Plans have been completed for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet at First Christian Church. The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 29, at the church. Mrs. Bert Frye of Xenia, chalk artist, will be the guest speaker.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Edith Parsley or Mrs. Elizabeth Fullerton by April 26 (Saturday).

MW Committee, DAR to meet

Hostesses for the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be Miss Helen Perrill, Mrs. Ervin Miller, Mrs. Kenneth J. Johnson and Mrs. Thomas J. Hancock. The group will meet in the home of Mrs. Ronald Cornwell at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; revenging one makes you but even with him; forgiving it sets you above him."

Xi Iota Theta announces sale

The Xi Iota Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Pam Pollard. The Opening Ritual was led by President Mrs. Fred Pitzer.

A report was made by Mrs. Judy Wilson, social committee chairman. Members will have dinner at the Brown Derby and later attend the movie, "Funny Lady."

Mrs. Becky Greenwood, chairman of ways and means, reminded all of the garage and bake sale. She gave out work schedules and urged all to participate. Service chairman Mrs. Nikki Lyre reported on the 11 Easter baskets delivered to three local families.

The State Convention for May 16, 17 and 18 was announced. The chapter will be represented and is hoping for 100 per cent.

Officers were nominated and will be elected at the next meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. Bob Clary.

McNair Women hold meeting

The Women's Association of McNair Presbyterian Church met with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hyer, when Mrs. Charles Wood, president, opened by reading "Is Your Beauty Blooming?" She read from the Yearbook of Prayer concerning churches and schools in Guatemala. Silent prayer was observed and then all said the Lord's Prayer in unison. Eight answered roll call and Mrs. Lewis Kuhlwein, a guest, gave an interesting talk on "Looking for Signs." Reports were made.

Fellowship Day was announced for 1:30 p.m. May 2 at the White Oak Grove Church. Also announced was the annual Sewing Day at the church beginning at 10 a.m. May 13, with a potluck dinner at noon.

The May meeting will feature a Silver Tea at 8 p.m. May 15 at the home of Mrs. Marvin Waddle.

Refreshments were served around the dining room table.

MR. & MRS. DANIEL R. WELLS

First Christian Church setting for marriage

Miss Patricia Jordin, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Jordin of 806 McLean St., became the bride of Daniel R. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Wells of 921 Broadway, April 5.

Rev. Ray Russell performed the double-ring ceremony in First Christian Church. Mrs. Frank Creamer, organist, provided music. The pews were marked by rainbow ribbon and fern.

Given in marriage by her brother, Michael Jordin, the bride wore a white crepe floor-length wedding gown with an overlay of floral lace, made by the bride's mother. The bride made her own veil, which was floor-length and trimmed with daisies. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white daisies with babies breath.

Miss Margaret O'Flynn, maid of honor, wore a dotted Swiss formal gown with pastel colored flowers, and carried an arrangement of matching daisies.

Michael Wells of Jacksonville, N.C., served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were Larry Hurt and Chuck Cruea.

The bride's mother wore a blue knit floor-length dress, and the bridegroom's mother chose a formal length pale green crepe dress.

Hostesses for the reception held in the social room at the church were Mrs. Karen Jones, Mrs. Phyllis Wells, Mrs. Larry Hurt and Mrs. Betty Shiltz.

The new Mrs. Wells and her husband are both graduates of Washington Senior High School. She is employed as a licensed practical nurse at Memorial Hospital, and he is employed by the U.S. Post Office.

The couple is residing at 1301 Washington Ave., following a trip to Florida.

Alpha Theta chapter activities

The Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Mrs. Don Gibbs. The program for the evening, "Harmony," was conducted by Mrs. Jack Merriman, assisted by Miss Robin Van Meter, a student from Washington Senior High School and also a member of the All Ohio Youth Choir. Robin lead the group in a selection of songs.

Discussions included the Mother-Daughter Banquet to be held in May, the pledges' garage sale to be held May 10 at Mrs. David Pellor's, the Million Dollar Bike Ride, which will be May 4. Sponsor sheets have been distributed to the schools in Washington City and the Miami Trace districts, along with fact sheets and maps describing the route. Awards were discussed and they include: first prize, to the rider who brings in the most money, a stereo tape player with turn table and twin speakers; second prize, (rider bringing in the next highest amount of money)

$50 cash award, and third prize, $25 cash award. Jacket patches and certificates will also be presented to riders turning in larger amounts of money. McDonald gift certificates will be awarded to the next 25 riders (after the

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think the majority of national public TV programming comes from New York, Boston and Washington, you're right, says James Loper, president of public TV station KCET in Los Angeles.

"Certainly, KCET would like to see it reversed," he adds, but says it's doubtful this will happen, even though his station has gotten some of the national program action and is actively seeking more.

He says two main factors are responsible for TV production centers or stations in the three Eastern cities turning out much of our PTV fare.

One is the production expertise they've acquired simply by being pioneers in public TV, he says. The other is geography. They're closest to major sources of corporate and foundation underwriting.

And where public affairs programming is concerned, he says, most of what affects the nation occurs in Washington and most of the nation's movers and shakers live in the so-called "Eastern corridor."

"I think most station managers west of the Mississippi, or even west of the Hudson, probably feel that material originating back here does largely reflect the Eastern viewpoint," he says of public affairs programming.

But when you analyze it, he adds, "there isn't that much that really does happen that influences the whole national scene outside of New York and Washington and perhaps some on the West Coast."

Still, he says, something needs to be done about television's "two-coast" mentality, which he half-jokingly theorizes is caused by the speed with which jets whisk TV executives from coast to coast.

"I think one of the great things public TV could do in the public affairs area is to develop some kind of program that would take a sampling of opinion from other major centers in the country on a regular basis," he said.

"I think a lot of television executives in commercial and public TV tend to think there's nothing 'out there' other than a group of affiliated stations with nothing going on."

Loper, a former PBS board chairman, said the national program

Money Matters

By R.E. Harper

Come To Think Of It,
Where Do YOU

Want To Go?

Are you prone to trust to luck and take the consequences? Or, do you have a plan for getting the most, not only out of life, but out of your money?

What does money mean to you? Status, material things, answers to dreams?

What would you like to have, to be - a year, 2-years, 10-years from now?

You need, MUST have a plan for the future.

The first step is to set down the answers to the questions posed above. Write them down - only so doing can you ever plan to reach them.

Good Luck to the Blue Drummer on their Grand Opening.

Good Luck to City Loan on their Grand Opening.

cooperative PBS began last year is helping more stations in cities between the two coasts get their wares seen on national public TV.

Under the system, stations can offer national programming whose costs would be paid by a majority of PBS stations.

But he said that as a practical matter, he doubts that there'll ever be a significant amount of national program offerings coming from what some call the hinterlands.

The reason, he said, is because the same kind of situation applies in public television that applies to commercial TV. And that is that there's a gravitation of talent - production, writing, performing and technical - toward New York and Los Angeles."

Flareup hits smoking bill hearings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tempers flared and a fight nearly broke out Monday night at a legislative hearing on a bill to ban smoking in public except in certain designated areas.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, intervened, ending a skirmish between a smoker and nonsmoker - the latter having taken offense to a lit cigarette.

Gene Garrow of Columbus, who identified himself as an unemployed social worker who came to testify as an individual, told newsmen that when someone lights a cigarette near him "I feel I am being assaulted." He had risen from his seat and announced to the room he intended to remove the cigarette from the mouth of a man in front of him.

The man replied, "No, you aren't," and at that point Meshel stepped in.

The smoker, who later testified, identified himself as Phillip Smith of Columbus, a lobbyist for the Ohio Association of Tobacco Dealers.

The senator admonished Garrow to "sit down. You'll get your chance to testify. Right now I'm on this bill, but I can get off it in two seconds."

Garrow said later he didn't "want to do anything to jeopardize the bill."

Committee Chairman Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, segregated the smokers and non-smokers and the remainder of the session was peaceful. The non-smokers had nearly 50 in their ranks, while three persons and reporters - in this case three who smoked - sat on the otherwise vacant side of the hearing room.

Sen. M. Morris Jackson, D-21 Cleveland, the bill's sponsor, said in his committee presentation that his bill "doesn't ban smoking, it just requires that it has to be done in special places, similar to the way most airlines handle the problem."

Prayer breakfast draws 44 persons

Forty-four were present at the weekly teen prayer breakfast Tuesday at the South Side Church of Christ, 921 S. Fayette St.

"Steps to Peace" was the topic used by the Rev. Charles J. Richmond for the meditation time.

LuAnn Graham and Mick Hecker led the group in singing and Linda Hollingsworth accompanied on the piano. Greg Sanderson offered prayer for the food.

After a breakfast of French toast, sausage and milk, a trio composed of Marilyn Creamer, Jana Bolender and Greg Sanderson sang, "Bless the Lord."

Mary Ann Rudduck, a senior at Washington Senior High School, spoke on "Smiling." She urged all to think of everything good in order to diminish the bad. Gretchen Owen, senior, dismissed the group in prayer.

The next prayer breakfast will be held at 6:45 a.m., April 29.

Sawhill new college head

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Federal Energy Administrator John C. Sawhill will succeed Dr. James Hester as president of New York University. Hester, who has held the post since 1962, will leave in September to become rector of the new United Nations University in Tokyo.

Sawhill, 38, is an alumnus of NYU's graduate School of Business Administration and former professor and assistant dean there.

Sawhill will be the 12th head of the university, which was founded in 1831 and now has nearly 40,000 students enrolled in 13 divisions at five major centers in Manhattan.

His appointment was announced Monday.

Giants top Reds in 10 innings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Just when the Cincinnati Reds were thinking they had their third base problems cured, lightning struck twice Monday night.

The San Francisco Giants took a 4-3 10-inning victory when rookie third baseman Doug Flynn lost Chris Speier's high chopper in the lights.

"A nice way to make your first error in the big leagues," moaned Flynn, who celebrated his 24th birthday three days ago.

"The kid wanted to crawl under the carpet," said catcher Johnny Bench, whose seventh inning three-run homer had propelled the Reds into a 3-2 lead.

"I thought we'd found all the ways to lose but we found one more," said

Bench, as the Reds dropped to 7-8 for the season after a 3-0 start.

"It was going so perfect," said Flynn. "It was right there, then all of a sudden it was gone. It took that last hop and I didn't see it."

The Giants, after tying it in the eighth when an error by starting third baseman John Vukovich kept the inning alive, opened the 10th with a double by Gary Matthews.

Gary Thomasson extended his hitless start to 0-for-19, but advanced Matthews to third with an infield out.

Speier, the only remaining member of the Giants' division-winning 1971 club, then bounced the soft hopper toward Flynn.

Reliever Gary Lavelle picked up his first big league victory by retiring the Reds in order. Pedro Borbon, who made his 10th appearance of the season, suffered the loss. Borbon is 1-1.

Giants starter Mike Caldwell had held the Reds to one hit in the first six innings. Dave Concepcion opened the seventh with a walk and Joe Morgan singled, setting up Bench's second homer of the season.

The Giants took a 2-0 lead in the second off Fred Norman, who was attempting to run his career record at Riverfront Stadium to 20-5. Bobby Murcer walked and Matthews doubled. After Ed Goodson grounded out, with the runners holding, Speier doubled for two runs.

Vukovich, who was acquired through trade in the off-season for his defensive skills, watched a Speier grounder skip through his legs for a two-base error with a runner on in the eighth. Marc Hill, the Giants rookie catcher, drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

Comeback-minded Gary Nolan, 0-1, was to face John D'Acquisto, 1-1, in today's series finale.

Dessert Smorgasbord slated on Thursday

Live entertainment, free food and no admission charge.

It may be a little difficult but that is a brief overview of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society's eleventh annual Dessert Smorgasbord to be held Thursday in the Mahan Building at the Fayette County Fairground.

The public is invited without charge to enjoy the entertainment, hear a guest speaker and select from the dozens of homemade desserts prepared by local residents.

The purpose of the event is to kick off the local cancer crusade. The dessert precedes Cancer Sunday, April 27, which is the first day of the door-to-door cancer drive. Literature concerning the various types of cancer will be available at the gathering, and the guest speaker, Dr. Myron Moskowitz, will discuss breast cancer and its detection.

The annual smorgasbord was launched 11 years ago as a training session for volunteers who would commence soliciting the following Sunday. However, it has since evolved to a public educational meeting during the past few years. More than 450 persons attended last year.

Early detection is the key to treating breast cancer, and Dr. Moskowitz is a specialist in the field. He is the director of the breast cancer detection center at the University of Cincinnati. The detection research center is one of 27 such facilities in the United States. A major goal at the center is to develop a method of mass screening for early detection of breast cancer.

Those who wish to make an appointment for the next colon cancer test will be able to do so at the smorgasbord, and everyone in attendance is encouraged to utilize the cancer information which is available.

Entertainment for the evening will be presented by the Miami Trace Folksingers who are directed by Mrs. Rick Stinson. The group has been well-received by several groups which have asked them to perform in the past.

The smorgasbord will begin at 7:30 p.m., and Dr. Moskowitz is expected to speak at about 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to enjoy the entertainment and the variety of desserts in the hour prior to the presentation by the speaker — and there will be a special assortment of low-calorie desserts for weight watchers.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Bart Mahoney, Mrs. Virgil Hardman, Mrs. Joe Henry, Mrs. Richard Wintingham and Mrs. Gene Donohoe.

Crop outlook data speeded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is stepping up its pace of crop forecasting this season, including plans to estimate 1975 corn production in July, a month earlier than had been scheduled.

Official USDA estimates have been made in August since 1970 so that later information could be used. Before 1970, however, it was customary for USDA to make its first official corn estimate in July.

The department also said Monday that estimates of acreages planted and expected for harvest will be announced June 30 for most crops. Normally, those are announced about July 10, based on readings July 1.

Officials said the accelerated schedule was adopted to provide farmers and market experts with as much information as early as possible to assist them in making decisions.

Nun joins Gulf Oil Corp. board

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Sister Jane Scully, a white-haired college president who has marched for civil rights, believes she'll feel at home on Gulf Oil Corp.'s board of directors.

She is a Roman Catholic nun, the first ever nominated for a major industrial corporation's board, and is president of Carlow College, which is operated by the Sisters of Mercy.

She thinks she's the right person to sit on the giant oil company's board, often the target of protesters demanding policy changes.

Rail bill proposed by Taft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation that would reform railway shipping rates and streamline abandonment of unproductive branch rail lines was introduced Monday by Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

It would also strip rate-making authority from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"The American consumer is being forced to pay the bill, from $4 billion to $10 billion a year, for the high shipping rates and inefficiency of railway operations caused by the Interstate Commerce Commission," Taft said.

Taft introduced the legislation for the third consecutive Congress.

"The record shows that instead of preventing arbitrary and discriminatory rates for which the ICC was created, sometimes the ICC has done exactly the opposite," he said.

Taft cited as an example the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority which showed that shipping costs were about one-third to one-half more between Toledo and regional points compared to shipping costs between those points and East Coast ports farther away.

"They needed someone to represent those concerns at the board level," said Sister Jane. "I was right under their noses. Gulf wanted a hometown girl."

She brings liberal credentials as a director of Gulf, a post she assumes today. The firm had $18 billion in revenues and $1.1 billion in profits last year.

The 57-year-old nun is involved in women's rights, consumerism and self-determination for foreign countries. These are points on which Gulf has been criticized at one time or another.

Sister Jane participated in the civil rights protests of the 1960s.

"I put the kids on the buses to Selma (Alabama) and then I couldn't go at the last minute," she said. "I was bitterly disappointed. I wanted to be part of that."

Later, she marched in local demonstrations. Once she testified at congressional hearings against the antiballistic missile system.

At Gulf's annual meeting last year, the company was criticized for underemployment of women and minorities. Corporate officials promised to nominate a woman to the board.

Last May, Gulf's headquarters were bombed by the radical Weather Underground, which said it was retaliating for what it called Gulf's imperialistic policies in tiny Angola.

In 1972 she was named Pittsburgh's "Man of the Year" in education.

As a new Gulf director, she says she will begin reviewing the issues which face the oil producer, then draw her own priorities from that list.

She says she wants Gulf to "show as much concern for people as it does for profits." And she says she is particularly concerned with Gulf's involvement in developing countries, such as its interests in Angola. Critics contend the native black population derives no benefits from Gulf's oil operations there.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN A BOOK?

The field editor of a well-known New York subsidy publishing firm will be in the area in June. He will be interviewing local authors in a quest for finished manuscripts suitable for book publication. All subjects will be considered, including fiction and non-fiction, poetry, juveniles, religious books, etc.

If you have completed a book-length manuscript (or nearly so) on any subject, and would like a professional appraisal (without cost or obligation), please write immediately describing your work and stating which part of the day (a.m. or p.m.) you would prefer for an appointment. Please mention your phone number. You will promptly receive a confirmation for a definite time and place.

Authors with completed manuscripts unable to appear may send them directly to us for a free reading and evaluation. We will also be glad to hear from those whose literary works are still in progress. Please address:

Is Electrolysis Safe?

How does electrolysis work for excessive hair on the face? Is it dangerous?

Miss G.W.I., New Mexico

Dear Miss I.:

Electrolysis, when performed by people who are trained, is usually completely safe.

A tiny needle is placed directly into the hair follicle. A very small amount of electric current is passed through the needle to destroy the hair root.

After this, the hair is gently removed and should never grow again.

The skin is not injured in any way by this procedure.

estimated that as much as 40 per cent of infertile marriages can be attributed to the husband.

In order to establish the cause of infertility, hormone studies are made, in addition to microscopic studies of the sperm.

Chemical analysis and the acidity of the fluid that carries the sperm are very significant.

It takes concentrated study to find the cause and correct it, if possibilities of fertility are to be increased.

Can flat feet be cured by special types of shoes?

Mr. I.R., S.D.

Dear Mr. R.:

Once flat feet occur, the condition cannot be reversed. The flatness of the arch of the foot, caused by hereditary weakness or improper shoes, can be helped by the use of arch supports.

These will relieve the symptoms, but cannot alter the changes that have already occurred in the bone structure.

Who's Pat Hurley?

Well, if you mean Major General Patrick Jay Hurley, then you are talking about the military expert who was U.S. Secretary of War in the Hoover cabinet. Then Roosevelt sent him to U.S.S.R. as his personal representative. In 1944 he was appointed ambassador to China. Pat just couldn't buy the sell-out of China to Mao so he resigned the next year. Pat started out as an Irish kid working in the coal mines and went on to become a lawyer, practicing before the U.S. supreme court, a representative of the Choctaw nation, and an important diplomat. But most important, Pat Hurley was a fighting Irishman and a patriotic American.

But there's another fighting Pat Hurley. Patrick had a daughter, Patricia. Now Patricia Hurley worked closely with her dad and she inherited the brains that made Pat a top lawyer, and the fighting spirit that made her dad a major general.

A few years ago I saw Miss Hurley on TV; she was reporting on the situation in China. I was impressed. She's one of the most knowledgeable people on world affairs and foreign policy I know of.

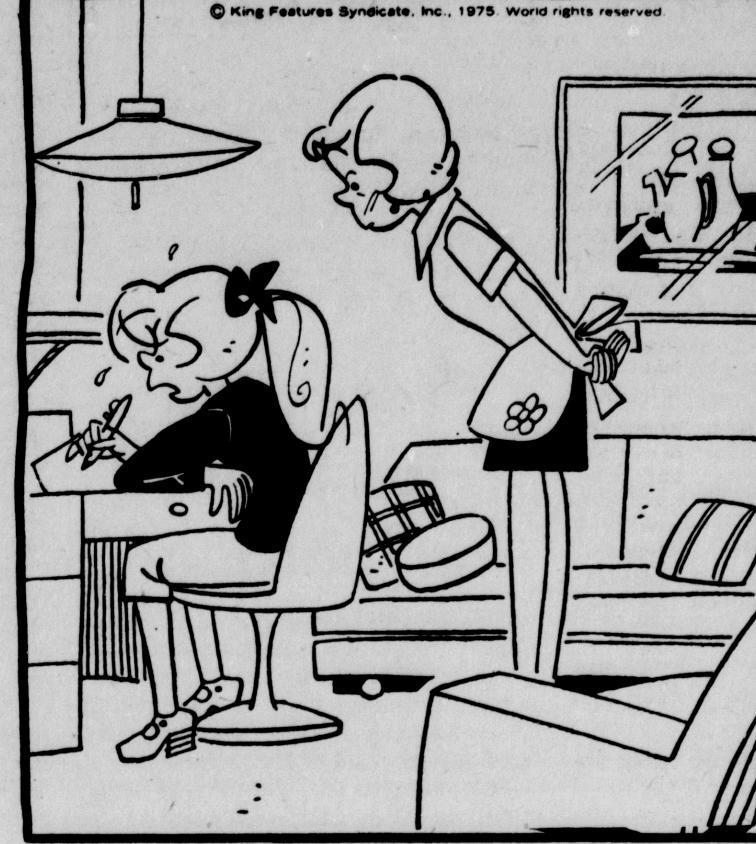

Patricia Hurley will be here in Washington C.H. to speak Tuesday, May 20, at the Eastside School gym. Her talk will be something you won't want to miss. Tickets on sale at the camera shop.

Two burglary reports checked by officers

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported a burglary, two larcenies and an incident of trash dumping today, while Washington C.H. police investigated a burglary within the city.

The Elizabeth Palaskas residence on New Martinsburg Road was broken into sometime between April 20 and Monday, sheriff's deputies reported.

A window was shattered and the house entered, but it is not known whether or not anything was removed. Investigation is continuing.

A camper vehicle owned by Dale R. Dawes, Greenfield, was broken into sometime between Friday and Monday. Four Coleman sleeping bags and a 150 foot extension cord were stolen.

Sheriff's deputies stated the hinges on the vehicle were forced open.

A pair of prescription glasses, a flashlight, a can of spray paint and some change was taken from a car.

Fair food prices said needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consumer advocate says families have the right to expect ample food at the "lowest possible price" but that farmers should not be asked to operate at financial losses to provide it.

"No, we are not so dumb as to want to bankrupt farmers," Carole T. Foreman, executive director of the Consumers Federation of America, said Monday.

Instead, there should be a public awareness and government action concerning middleman profits and to control large corporations which seem to be getting more interested in agriculture and the food business, she said.

Mrs. Foreman said Congress should provide $10 million for a full investigation of the food industry by the Federal Trade Commission. An FTC probe is under way, she said, but it is being limited by a lack of funds and an insufficient staff.

The consumer executive spoke at a meeting of the Newspaper Farm Editors of America. She said there should be "vigorous prosecution" of antitrust violations by those involved in various levels of food production, and that Congress needs to enact legislation to prohibit large, predominantly non-farm corporations from entering agriculture.

owned by Raymond Jett Jr., 1012 Lakeview Ave., while the auto was parked at Roller Haven, CCC Highway-W, between 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. April 4, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Trash was dumped along Old Chillicothe Road sometime over the weekend and Fayette County Sheriff's deputies are investigating to locate the owner.

A garage owned by Ronald Palmer, 316 E. Market St., located at 729 John St., was entered sometime between 9 p.m. Saturday and 8:30 p.m. Monday, by burglars who pried open the front door.

Once inside, Palmer's auto was forced open and a tape player and speakers removed.

Washington C.H. police are investigating the incident.

MONDAY — James R. Bonner, 46, Jamestown, failure to drive on the roadway and operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

POLICE
MONDAY — Richard B. Clark, 27, of 412 East St., bench warrant; Garry L. Shaw, 28, of 409 W. Elm St., bench warrant.

Prosecutor rips judge on 'bargain'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton County Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr. said he will challenge the judge who accepted a guilty plea to aggravated murder and set aside the death penalty over the protests of the prosecutor.

Leis charged that Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge Gilbert N. Bettman "does not have the authority" to accept a plea bargain in court and said he plans to appeal to the 1st Ohio District Court of Appeals.

"What he did," Leis charged, "is he did away with the death penalty."

Bettman sentenced Curtis Duane Palmore, 18, to life on the aggravated murder charge and 7-30 years for armed robbery, the terms to run concurrently.

The charges concerned the Nov. 14, 1974 slaying of Charles Pomerantz, 17, during a robbery of a service station in which $188 was taken and the youth shot through the head afterward, police said.

The case became an emotional one locally after Palmore's father turned in his son. Pomerantz' classmates at Cincinnati Elder High School, and school officials, set up a memorial scholarship fund in the youth's honor.

A second youth, Jerry Jackson, 22, is scheduled for trial April 29 in the same case.

Minor traffic mishaps probed

Washington C.H. police and Fayette County Sheriff's deputies each reported an accident Monday.

Slight damage was incurred by cars driven by Dorothy Jennings, 53, New Boston, and Talitha F. Mossbarger, 48, Jeffersonville, at 10:44 a.m. Monday, in the K-Mart parking lot on Columbus Avenue.

Police stated a passenger in the Jennings auto opened the car door into the Mossbarger car while it was pulling into a parking space.

Cars driven by Marcella F. Rittenhouse, 33, of 3371 Worthington Rd., and Stuart T. Looney, 22, of 2676 Bulldog Court, collided when they backed into each other in the Mac Tool parking lot, U.S. 35, at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Sheriff's deputies reported moderate damage incurred by the Rittenhouse auto and slight damage incurred by the Looney car.

Blood run made

Fayette County Sheriff's Deputy Dave Krupka made an emergency blood relay for Fayette Memorial Hospital at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

He met Franklin County Sheriff's deputies at the intersection of CCC Highway-E and I-71, received the blood and transported it to the hospital.

Officers elected at OHS meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officers were elected to the Ohio Historical Society this past weekend at its annual meeting.

Elected were James Kaval of Cleveland, president; Clay Littick, Zanesville, and Joseph Dehner, Cleveland, vice presidents; Thomas Smith, Athens, secretary-treasurer.

Also elected were Wayne Graf, Columbus, treasurer; Fred Milligan, Westerville, legal counsel; and Charles Pratt, Columbus, associate director.

Elected to the board were Gilbert Dilley, Akron; Hilda Bentley, Toledo; and Eugene Rigney, Chillicothe.

Dr. Warren Harding II of Columbus was elected trustee emeritus.

A change in the society's constitution allows the governor to appoint nine trustees for three-year terms. Society members will elect nine members. In the past nine members were elected and the governor had six appointees.

Blackie and Breeze were the names of two dogs who returned to earth after being in orbit aboard the Soviet satellite Cosmos 10.

Washington C.H. firemen responded to a false alarm at 6:19 p.m. Monday. Assistant Fire Chief John Rockhold stated a young male caller telephoned the department and reported a house fire at 800 E. Temple St. The boy sounded between six and eight-years-old over the phone, Rockhold said.

A firetruck was driven to the location, but no fire was found.

Few surgery curtailments seen

A few hospitals in the state planned to curtail surgery schedules this week as a result of an anesthesiologists' meeting in Mansfield focusing on the malpractice insurance problem, an Associated Press survey disclosed.

Deaconess Hospital in Cleveland said it would postpone all but emergency surgery from Wednesday to Friday while a group of its anesthesiologists attended the Mansfield conference.

S.J. Cocuzza, administrator at Galion's Crestline Memorial Hospital, said elective surgery would not be scheduled during the conference, which opened Monday and runs through Friday, but emergency cases would be handled.

Anesthesiologists at Galion Community Hospital also planned to attend the conference, but hospital officials said "all necessary" patient care would be maintained.

The seminar is being coordinated by Anesthesia Associates of Mansfield Inc., whose seven doctors refused to work for a week earlier this month after their malpractice insurance expired and they could not find adequate coverage.

Only emergency surgery was scheduled at the two Mansfield hospitals served by the doctors until an insurer was located who met most of the doctors' needs.

Dr. David Massa of Anesthesia

Associates said about 50-60 advance reservations had been made for the seminar, but he could not predict how many physicians would eventually attend.

He said the aim of the seminar is "first, to have the doctors physically here as visible evidence of their concern about the liability crisis and, second, to inform them about proposed legislation that is being offered to solve the problem."

Don Newkirk, president of the Ohio Hospital Association, said he understood that about 100 doctors were expected at the seminar.

"If that's the case," he said, "100 out of the 700 anesthesiologists in the state won't curtail services."

Dr. Karl Kuehne of the Mansfield group said Mansfield's General Hospital and People's Hospital would be operating at about half their normal schedule during the conference.

But at Grant Hospital, Doctors Hospitals and University Hospitals in Columbus, spokespersons reported no change in their routines.

"All our anesthesiologists are here but one, who's on vacation and may be attending the conference," said Fred Butz, an administrator at University Hospitals.

Officials at Bellefontaine's Mary Rutan Hospital, Chillicothe medical center hospital and Hocking Valley Community Hospital in Logan said no curtailment in surgery was necessary because of the seminar.

Five Dayton area hospitals surveyed also reported no change.
